A career in fresh produce opens the exciting global doors into the world-wide fresh supply chain and offers the opportunity to work with passionate people in an agile, innovative and demanding environment unlike any other.

With a combined T/O in excess of £400m, the Group is home to fourteen businesses that both grow and supply a vast range of fresh produce into retail, wholesale and food service customers who demand only the very best.

Fresca Group was established in 2005, but with a heritage dating back to 1874, is 40% employee owned, encouraging an engaged and committed workforce.

Management Trainees will sit within the Junior Management Team of a Business Unit, gaining an understanding of customers and specifications by rotating around the key components of the end-to-end operation including Supply Chain, Logistics, Technical & Quality, Commercial and Procurement.

We welcome applications particularly from candidates with an Agricultural or Food focused degree which may well have included business, marketing, technical, supply chain or consumer behavioural elements. Click For More Information
